THE EXCISE LAW.

The order of the Police Commissioners issued at the Priday meeting regarding the enforcement of the Excise law goes into force to-day. It will then revive much of the disturbance which made the police force so unpopular in 1867-8. It is probable that the law, however, will not be enferced with the same rigidity, as the lesson of the general disapproval will probably be sufficient

The following is the law on the subject :-

The following is the law on the subject:—

Secrion 5.—Licenses granted as in this act provided shall not authorize any person or persons to expose for sale, or sell, give away or dischase of, any strong or spiratuous inquors, wines, ales or beer, on any day between the nours of one and the obtles in the morting.

All places licensed as aforesaid shall be closed an kept closed between the hours aforesaid and closed an kept closed between the hours aforesaid and the times when such selling its art foresaid and other times when such selling its art foresaid and the closed and kept the day of police to enforce the observance of the such and other of police of enforce the observance of the such and of the construction. Softling herein contained sail be construed to prevent hotels from receiving and entertaining travellers at any time, subject to the restrictions contained in this act and the act hereby amended.—As amended by the act of 1873.

Sec. 21.—No unit awern or hotel keeper or other person shall seil or give away intoxicating liquors or wines on Sunday, or upon any day on which a general or special election or town meeting shall be held, and within one-quarter of a mile from the blace where such general or special election or town meeting shall be held, and within one-quarter of a mile from the blace where such general or special election or town meeting shall one state, the any person whatever, as a beverage. In case the election or town meeting shall be found the state, the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be held. Whoever shall offend against the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be paid amended by act of 1873.

In accordance with these provisions of the law Amended by act of 1873.

In accordance with these provisions of the law aperintendent Walling yesterday gave special instructions to all the police captains to have the law enforced to the letter on Sunday, but in no wise to exceed their orders and instructions. It wise to exceed their orders and instructions. It has been evident that the Commissioners have not known what to do under the circumstances, and that they are simply trying to waik along softly, without treading on anybody's toes. On the one hand they do not care to offend the power of Tammany and the democratic objection to sumptuary laws, and on the other hand they dear to retime to enforce the demand of the Sabbath keepers, who depend upon and demand the carrying out the nove section, which cannot be misconthise to enforce the demand of the Sactath keepers, who depend upon and demand the carrying out of the above section, which cannot be misconstrued. The Commissioners are weak-kneed and have acted in so learning a manner about this matter during the past iew weeks that there can be modulated the past iew weeks that there can be don't they wish to evade the responsibility on either side and throw it upon the superintendent and his officers. Under these circumstances the law will, no doubt, he very well kept to-day in the more respectable quarters, while in others, where the great unwashed predominate, there will be very little change. The whole affair is a passing scare which the Police Commissioners have been lorced into by the petition of the Alanson Methodist church. It is even said that if the Commissioners had refused to enforce the law charges would have been preferred against them by the Sabbatarian Committee to the Mayor, who would then have been responsible. This difficulty has been temporarily bridged over by the action of last Friday. One of the Commissioners stated to a Heraald reporter yesterday that the Board had no desire to be unnecessarily stringent in the matter, and so long as a decent appearance of adherence to the law was made, nothing more would be demanded. It was necessary that saloon keepers should not expose their liquors in windows nor keep their front doors open on Sunday but there was mothing which could proubt them keeping their back doors open, and no officer would have a right to enter the house to see whether a sale of liquors was going on, so that unless a distinct compisant was made they could not effect an arrest. The Commissioner added that there was no wish on their part to embarrass the trace if decently carried on.

.. THE COMMISSIONERS OF PARKS.

A visit was yesterday made to the Department of Porks and from the Secretary, Mr. Irwin, it was ancertained that yesterday the Board took action on the appointment of Superintendent of Parks. They appointed as such Julius Minckwitz, who for a long period has been supervising archi-who for a long period has been supervising architect in the department. The salary for this office has been $4,500, but as the Superintendent of Parks, Mr. Ryan, had tendered his resignation, and the office has been for some time vacant, the Commissioners have consolidated the two offices under the jurisdiction of Mr. Minckwitz at the stipulated salary of $5,000 per year.

The committee of gentlemen representing the Museum of Art and the Museum of Natural History, consisting of Messrs. Blodget, Howard Potter, Choate, Harnes, Rninelander and Bland, met the Park Commission in joint session, for the purpose of conserring with them as to the payment to the committee of funds hereafter to be disbursed on the account of disbursements for these museums. The result of the conference was that the committee and the Commissioners came to an amicable understanding, by which the latter, in place of naying a "oning" sam to the former and permitting the various societies to disburse it, will in intore submit the bils to the Park Department, who will, if these bils be legitimate, and the mand send them to the Comprisier for payment. This arrangement seemed to salisty the parties to the call of the coalf.

Corporation Counsel Smith's supplemental an-swer to the Major's charges will be made public to-morrow. It is a very voluntinous document. In relation to the offer of Jayne of $500,000 to prevent relation to the offer of Jayne of $500,000 to prevent the prosecution of the suits against the city Mr. Smith in his answer states that when it was made he consulted with his associates engaged in the prosecution fully and freely. His alleged apathy in prosecuting the suits, he says, was by advice of his associates, who had good reason for postponing hasty action. He says, moreover, that he was always in favor of the idea that the county sione could legally prosecute the claims. There was a rumor late in the day at the city Hall that the Mayor had received his certificate for removal of Mr. Smith and the Governor's approval. The Mayor, when spoken to about the matter, said:—"I have received no approval from the Governor of the charges preferred against the Corporation Counsel or the Fire Commissioners."
